A Message From Our Chair

If you are like me you enjoy a great story! Whether it's a book, movie, a favorite television show or a heartfelt story shared by a friend, we love stories. At The AnMed Health Foundation, we have the privilege of hearing and seeing great stories play out. Stories of lives changed and hope shared through the incredible compassion, sacrifice and service of those who generously give to our mission. You will read one of those great stories in this annual report to the community. It is one of gratitude and sacrifice, all from a sweet 16-year-old named Taylor Odom who wanted to give back to Pediatric Therapy Works where she has been a patient for a number of years. It wasn't the amount of money given, but this teenager's heart that makes this story great!

We often refer to AnMed Health Pediatric Therapy Works as AnMed Health's little Miracle on Fant Street. You probably have driven by it many times without giving it much note, but if your child or grandchild has required the services of this special place, like Taylor, you know of the love and patience that is poured into the hundreds of children in our community who receive care there. We are especially fond of Pediatric Therapy Works! We also know the difference that the funds raised through the Foundation's annual Camellia Ball has made in its continued operation! And that's just one example of where the Foundation, through your generous gifts, is putting hands and feet to the work of AnMed Health.

It has been an exciting year at The AnMed Health Foundation. We celebrated our first #GivingTuesday event, we set a record in funds raised with our 22nd annual Camellia Ball in February and we are preparing to commission our mobile mammography unit later this year. We are very excited about this state of the art clinic on wheels that will travel all over our community providing screenings for those people who might not otherwise have access to them. Together, through your generous support, we are making a difference in lives in our community.

On behalf of the Foundation, we thank you for your continued generous charitable giving to our mission of strengthening and sustaining excellent health care. You are helping us continue to write great stories of lives impacted and changed by endowing the future of health care in the communities we serve. May this continue to be the measure of our days throughout 2017!

We are in this together!

Teen foregoes presents to benefit the AnMed Health Foundation

When Taylor Odom turned 16 last year, she decided she didn't need any presents. She wanted to donate to The AnMed Health Foundation rather than receive gifts. Specifically, she wanted the money to help AnMed Health Pediatric Therapy Works in Anderson. Taylor knows how important physical and occupational therapy can be to those who need it.

Taylor was born with Kabuki Syndrome, a rare genetic disorder that can impact physical and mental abilities. She has received speech, physical and occupational therapy for most of her life. For the last seven years, she has come from her home in Abbeville for therapy at Pediatric Therapy Works. In addition, her brother, Deakon, who has autism, has received therapy there since he was 2 years old.

About four years ago, the Odom family was having difficulties with their insurance coverage, said Dorothy Odom, Taylor's mom.

BeLinda Bacher, program manager of Pediatric Therapy Works, and her staff worked with the family when their insurance reimbursement was at risk. They found a solution through The AnMed Health Foundation.

When Taylor turned 16 last June, she decided she didn't need any presents. She wanted to donate to the AnMed Health Foundation instead.

Taylor Odom, with mom Dorothy, decided to pay some of it back for her 16th birthday when she asked friends and family for money to donate through the AnMed Health Foundation to Pediatric Therapy Works.

"It meant a lot to us," Dorothy said. "When Taylor started talking about having a 16th birthday party, we started talking about how with a bigger party she didn't need a lot of gifts. I suggested donating... and she jumped on it."

Taylor's birthday invitation requested no gifts, Dorothy said. But, it added, in lieu of a gift, anyone who wanted to could make a donation to the AnMed Health Foundation. The donations came in different ways, some directly to Taylor and some directly to the foundation. Even when people said Taylor could do what she wanted with the money, "I donated it all," she said. Taylor's final contribution came to $567.

Taylor considered several places for the donation, such as the Greenwood Miracle League where she has played baseball since she was 8 years old, or the Ronald McDonald House where her family stayed while she had heart surgery when she was 8 weeks old.

"I decided here," Taylor said of giving to Pediatric Therapy Works. They wanted to "pay it forward" for the help they received when they needed it.

"They're wonderful here. We see them more than we see some of our family," Dorothy said. "Taylor wanted to give back because she knows how important therapy can be and what a good group of people they have over here."

Taylor has a great memory and she remembers all of the therapists she has worked with over the past seven years at Pediatric Therapy Works. Currently she takes physical therapy with Camille Baliker and occupational therapy with Beth Woollens. They gear therapy toward age-appropriate skills that will help Taylor throughout her life, such as personal hygiene and computer keyboarding.

"The Odoms are an amazing family who hold a special place in the hearts of all of us at PTW," Bacher said. "We have watched Taylor grow into a warm, thoughtful young lady. At an age when most kids can't wait to make a list of what they want for their birthday, it warmed my heart when Taylor asked if she could encourage her friends to donate to PTW instead of bringing her gifts."

Taylor's gift will benefit her as well as others receiving therapy because the clinic is using her donation to replace old and worn out equipment.

Donation funds hospitality cart

Gary Seymore, president of Eco Waste Services, donated funds to The AnMed Health Foundation to purchase a hospitality cart for the AnMed Health Infusion Center. Seymore's gift also will provide the snacks and drinks for patients receiving infusion treatments. Seymore gave proceeds from his "pink" dumpster sales during the month of October to supply the cart in memory of his mother, Iva Nell Seymore. The Seymore family is pictured with the cart.

Grace Cromer, center, passes along a check from Mike Durham (r) of Piedmont Natural Gas to Foundation Executive Director Tim Self. The natural gas company made the donation through Cromer's Pennies 4 Preemies non-profit. Although she is a healthy and active teenager now, Cromer was born three months early, the only girl in a set of triplets. She creates awareness and support for families with premature babies and children with special needs.

Mobile health coming to Anderson and surrounding communities

The AnMed Health Foundation has placed the order for the vehicle – which will be the size of a large charter bus – so that the Radiology Department can put mammography screenings on the road for underserved women in the Upstate. The bus is expected to arrive in the Summer of 2017.

The unit was purchased with funds raised by The AnMed Health Foundation’s “Health Care Everywhere” campaign. The campaign began in 2013 with the goal of raising $1.2 million to cover the cost of purchasing, equipping and operating the screening unit, as well as providing low or no cost mammography screenings for women who otherwise would not have access to services.

“For many reasons, such as transportation issues or lack of insurance, some women just don’t get screened for breast cancer,” said Judy Wilson, director of radiology at AnMed Health. “We hope many more of them will be screened if it is offered at their neighborhood, church or business through our mobile diagnostic unit. Our mission is to save lives by bringing mobile mammography to the patient.”

AnMed Health has high expectations for the program. The goal is to achieve approximately 2,000 new breast cancer screenings each year, to save or prolong an estimated 100 lives due to early detection and treatment of breast cancer, to educate more than 10,000 women on how to perform breast self-examinations between screenings, and to provide underserved patients access to cancer specialists in all of AnMed Health’s affiliate hospitals and clinics.

“Mobile mammography will enhance our ability to serve others, which is a cornerstone of AnMed Health’s mission,” said Tim Self, executive director of The AnMed Health Foundation. “The foundation will continue to raise funds to cover the $160 per mammogram cost so that anyone can receive breast cancer screenings, regardless of their ability to pay or lack of insurance.”

Kids Classic has another successful year

The annual Kids Classic golf tournament raised $88,950 to support educational programs that focus on children.

The event was held at Currahee Club in Toccoa, Georgia. The event gives golfers a chance for networking, camaraderie and to raise money for worthy causes supported by The AnMed Health Foundation, including Safe Kids, Doclink and Reach Out and Read.

Laissez Les Bons Temps Rouler
(Let The Good Times Roll)

The 22nd Annual Camellia Ball was a smashing success. With your help, we raised more than $211,000 to support Pediatric Therapy Works.

Proceeds from the ball support the young patients at AnMed Health Pediatric Therapy Works (PTW), which provides physical, speech and occupational therapy services to children with development disorders or physical impairments. The family-centered team approach focuses on a child's individual goals and empowers each family to help their child reach his or her fullest potential.

Amy and Jimmy Kimbell, hosts of the 2016
Camellia Ball.

Our community had many reasons to celebrate over the last year. Our healthcare team and many of our programs received regional and national recognition for commitment, compassion and professionalism. These achievements represent our commitment to medical excellence and demonstrate our employees' dedication to reaching and sustaining the gold standard of care.

Thank you for caring and making a real difference in the lives of so many.

I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community and as long as I live, it is my privilege to do for it whatever I can. I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work the more I live.
